Plastic properties & environmental impact

Polymethylmetakrylat, PMMA

Transparent, amorphous thermoplastic. Good optical properties, high hardness, good finish and outdoor weathering properties. Easily attacked by chlorinated hydrocarbons, alcohols, ketones, and strong acids, but tolerates oil and bases. Often called Plexiglass.

Environmental impact: Essentially insoluble in water. Low probability of bioaccumulation. No degradation in soil or water. Incineration and thermal degradation lead to release of toxic, irritating and combustible substances.

With a complete set (twigs and trunk), you can also create your very own 'family tree' with pictures of 'all of us who work here', or, for private use, pictures of generations of loved ones at home. Leopold Warning for reading children!

Leopold the lion is the king of the animals. This is a responsible task that he takes very seriously. That is why he looks perhaps a bit fierce. He is busy keeping "bothersome" adults away from reading children.

Leopold advises children on good reading suggestions while looking out for children's right to read undisturbed.

Here, Leopold is taking on the role of majestic picture book browser with two compartments and dividers (adjustable) and ribbed rubber mats for the interior. Supplied with adjustable feet as well as a can of furniture wax for treating edges.

It is not for nothing that the lion has become an important and frequently used symbol of suggestions for reading help!

Capacity	Approx. 120-140 picture books.
Size	(W x D x H mm) End panels: 835 x 740 x 863 Compartments: 4 units x 342 x 318 x 170 (interior dimensions).

Wildlife collection

Ignite children's imagination...

Continuing our dedication to encourage visitors to libraries and to pick up a book, these animal inspired book displays are designed to attract and encourage the youngest of visitors to interact, engage and let their imaginations run WILD!

We have worked extremely hard to create a collection of children's furniture especially designed for libraries and other learning environments. Children's furniture where playful designs, clever functions, solid construction and good choices of materials are brought together with care and concern for both the users (children and adults) and the environment.

Meet Leopold, Elna & Elof. Keep an eye out for their friends - there are several that want to move into the libraries, one after another!

Material	Laminated plywood.

Responsible Forestry

Our environmental policy is aimed at reducing CO₂ emissions, waste and energy consumption. We are working to develop and deliver eco-friendly and eco-approved products.

The Wildlife collection is a sample of some of the products that will be covered by this ambition. The collection is made of wood from sustainable forestry.

Elna & Elof

On a picture-book safari...

Meet Elna the elephant. She loves being with children and is happy to be fed with books (that's allowed!). Books that she also generously shares in her own special way. Elna is kind but a bit mischievous. She sticks out her trunk a bit cheekily at everyone who comes near her. She is so eager to show off the books she likes.

Elna also has her own very special hiding places for books for children to discover, or spaces to crawl in under. With so many books to display Elna has little Elof to help with the load. He follows in his mother's footsteps. Elof also lets children sit down among and browse the books.

End panels

Jigsaw and recessed panels with interior grooves/brackets for installing shelves for front display, picture book storage and/or reading space. Supplied with adjustable feet as well as a can of furniture wax for treating edges.

A day on the savannah...

You can easily create a bit of the savannah using the spectacular Gradient room dividers (p. 96) shaped like giant blades of grass (elephant grass?).

They help create peaceful zones for reading children. And Leopold, Elna & Elof will feel right at home.

Picture book storage

Elna is fitted with one shelf and two picture book compartments, while Elof has only two picture book compartments or one reading space, see below. The picture book compartments are fitted with practical dividers (adjustable) and ribbed rubber mats for the interior.

Halland Virrvarr

Our bestseller is now available in the Virrvarr pattern

A whole generation of Swedes have spilled milk on this iconic, speckled grey pattern called Virrvarr (eng. maze). That's because this pattern, designed by Sigvard Bernadotte in 1958, saw its heyday around 1965 when it was in everyone's kitchen in the form of kitchen tabletops, windowsills and much, much more.

We're taking the old-school and making it relevant today. Our popular Halland Plus book trolley is now available in the classic Virrvarr pattern. Single-sided book trolley with four sloping shelves (two adjustable).

Prince Sigvard Bernadotte, the design prince.

One of Sweden's most prominent designers during the 1900s, who united the beauty and functionality with the efficient and effective production process. Originator of some of the most useful and recognized everyday objects such as the Red Clara can opener, Margrethe bowl, Bernadotte jug, Georg Jensen silver collection, Facit Private typewriter and countless other incredible objects and patterns. The man is synonymous with rigorously high standards and sophistication.

Ratio wooden shelving system

Exceptional versatility...

The Ratio shelving system encapsulates the true meaning of flexibility. Its modular construction provides the highest degree of functionality and versatility and its style and quality makes it suitable for both contemporary and classic library environments.

The Ratio Wooden Shelving System is distinctively characterised by its solid end panels, that are available in a number of finishes to complement the shelves and the back panels. The shelving system is available as single or double-sided and can be fitted with metal or wooden shelves (that are only 7mm from the shelf edge) as well as a wide variety of other functional components. The result – a customisable shelving system that fits the requirements of your specific library.

The Ratio Wooden shelving system is available in two models – Ratio-B and Ratio-S. The Ratio-B shelving comes without a top shelf or bottom shelf and creates an open, airy feel. The Ratio-S model comes with a top shelf and an additional bottom shelf and accompanying kickplate which takes full advantage of the height of the shelving system and is ideal for large volumes often used in scientific libraries.

The design of the shelving system, with its 32 mm grid module, allows for easy assembly and adjustment without the use of specific tools. When constructing your Ratio shelving system it is important to note that there must be at least 3 shelves (top, middle and bottom) that are fixed with screws to ensure correct stability.

Cleaning instructions

Fluff and loose particles

Try to rub the surface material gently, using a smooth brush or blowing with a compressed air device. If the particles will not fall off try using a sticky roller. The sticky roller can be bought in any clothing shop.

Coffee- and hot chocolate

Nasty stains from hot beverages can be removed by using smooth washing textile liquids. The textile liquids can be bought in well-stocked petrol stations or in the supermarket. Remember always to be gentle when trying to wash off stains. Never use tools with sharp edges.

Grease and stains

Try to soften the stained surface with warm water. Then drip soft washing up liquid on the stained spot. Let the washing up liquid operate for a while and then mix the warm water and the washing up liquid gently on the spot with your fingers. Continue mixing the washing up liquid on the spot until it becomes white and lathery. Let the fabric dry by hanging up or gently press a cloth on the "stained" spot.

NB: do not rub, only press and allow the cloth to suck up the moisture.

Silent Socks

Prevent noise...

Silent Socks are an ingenious solution to an age-old problem: chair legs that cause annoying scraping noise and scratches and marks on the floor.

Silent Socks look like tennis balls (which some people use as a substitute), but looks are deceiving. The Swedish-developed and manufactured product is adapted for steel tube chairs and mutes scraping noise by up to 18dB. It also eliminates the annoying bangs between chairs and table legs, for instance. The specially adapted core makes sure Silent Socks stay on chair legs with no slipping or moving about.

An eco-friendly, reusable and thoroughly tested (SP for wear) noise preventer. The acoustic test report is also available from the Akustikverkstan lab.

Format	For tube diameters Ø16-22 and Ø20-27 mm.

Gradient consists of several modules of various heights with hexagonal bases, all in beautiful shades of green or all white. Place them in more or less regular shapes, just as you prefer. Extend the life of your plastic furniture

All children's furniture made of plastic is organic and fully recyclable. It has a long lifecycle, which benefits the environment. You can prolong the life and appearance of your plastic furniture by correct and regular maintenance.

Clean with a soft cloth, either dry or wet. When needed use a pH-neutral soap/detergent diluted with water. Do not clean with abrasives as they can leave marks. Avoid acidic products, ingredients and products that contain ammonia.

Most of the furniture can be used outdoors. Remember that when plastic furniture is exposed to direct sunlight for an extended period of time the colour may fade.

Puzzle

Prizewinning furniture icon for children...

Puzzle is just as much a range of furniture as a play tool designed for children and on their terms. The shape is just as simple as it is genius, where both the element and the construction form a table and stools.

Children come and go, look and search around, play individually or in a group or gather together to hear a story read aloud. Activities that demand as well as create space for them. Puzzle invites both children and staff (either individually or together) to gather, stack and place out in different patterns or arrangements, all with a clear pedagogic for stimulating the child's imagination and creativity. At the end of the activity or at closing time it is just as easy to put the table and stools away or to prepare for the next activity.

Naturally designed for children and on the children's terms but also with thought to you and your colleagues.

Plastic properties & environmental impact

Polyethylene, PE

White to colourless thermoplastic manufactured through polymerization of ethylene. Relatively impervious to chemicals (except strong oxidizing acids and certain organic solvents), low water absorption, good impact resistance. The plastic burns easily, has poor weather resistance, and limited heat resistance.

Environmental impact: The plastic is not classified as hazardous to health and is not believed to be hazardous to the environment. No special anti-pollution devices are needed during incineration.

Bags, depending on choice of material, can be ranked according to the effects on the environment:

1. Green polythene (recyclable plastic made of renewable resources – not available).
2. Regular polythene bags.
3. Corn bags.
4. Bio-decomposable bags.
5. Paper bags.

Paper bags are heavier; require more space and more energy:

- Production of paper bags requires 1.5 times more energy than plastic bags (polythene).
- Air pollution is 10 times higher from paper bags than plastic bags. Paper bags develop methane at recycling stations.
- Water pollution is 50 times higher from paper bags than from plastic bags.
- Storage and transportation costs are 5 times higher for paper bags than plastic bags.

Plastic bags are more likely to be re-used than paper bags. They are water resistant, easier to pack and deliver. When disposing of plastic bags there are no harmful substances, only water and carbon monoxide.

We can help you make a difference...

More to choose from!

Before you place an order, ask these questions to help you decide exactly what to buy.

Best before date?

How long will plastic film last? Of course plastic film doesn't come with a best before date. But if you are buying in large quantities to use over a long period of time, remember that the glue on self-adhesive film can age. That is why we recommend a best before date of 2 years. This applies to unused film on a roll. It doesn't mean you can't use film older than 2 years. It just means to keep in mind that even though the quality of the film will not have deteriorated, the glue on older film may have.

Easy to reposition!

Are you a beginner or maybe nervous about making a mistake? Keep calm, we've got just the solution for you. Repositionable plastic film can be placed, removed and repositioned multiple times without tearing or sticking. If you're not sure which to choose, we recommend Eurobib's Filmolux Soft book covering plastic. You can also loosen the film up to four hours after applying it to a book. After 24 hours, the glue will have stabilized and the film is then firmly adhered to the cover. Other plastic film we market as repositionable has a more instant adhesion and must be repositioned immediately.

Matt or gloss?

Which is better? Gloss plastic film strengthens the colours on a book cover and is often used to protect photographs. Matt film does not reflect light in the same way as gloss. Barcode labels protected by gloss film can be a little difficult to read. You need to decide what is best for your own requirements.

Plastic properties & environmental impact

Polyvinyl chloride, PVC

Colourless vinyl chloride polymer. The plastic is usually mixed with free additives such as softeners, fillers and lubricants, as well as stabilizers, which is why it is available in a large number of qualities with diverse properties. In general, the plastic has good resistance to chemicals. However, it also has a low softening point.

Environmental impact: Not classified as a hazardous to health and believed to be physiological inert. However, hydrogen chloride is released during incineration.

Polypropylene, PP

White to colourless plastic (without additives), similar to polyethylene but more rigid. High fatigue resistance, low density, good electrical properties, good resistance to chemicals and good mechanical properties. However, can be attacked by strong acids and bases, aromatic and chlorinated hydrocarbons and methanol.

Environmental impact: The plastic is not classified as hazardous to health. Bioavailability is not likely because of the plastic's consistency and insolubility in water. Releases carbon dioxide and steam during incineration. Small quantities of biodegradable products are formed.

WARRANTY

We offer a two-year warranty for material and manufacturing defects. Your invoice serves as proof of warranty. If you wish to make a claim under the warranty, you must state the invoice number.

DELIVERY TERMS

Thedesignconcept normally dispatches all orders for products in stock within a week. As regards orders for products that are not stocked by Thedesignconcept, see the catalogue or webshop for up-to-date information on delivery times.

Orders are delivered ex works. Free delivery is offered on orders over £100. The freight charge for orders below £100 is £10. Orders are dispatched using the most advantageous shipping option, unless otherwise agreed. Products which are temporarily out of stock will be delivered as soon as they are back in stock.

Orders dispatched to addresses outside mainland UK may be subject to a delivery fee. Orders which are not received by the customer due to limited opening hours at the delivery address will be scheduled for redelivery which is subject to an additional charge. You should therefore always provide details about the recipient's opening hours, contact and telephone number on your order.

If you do not receive your order, you may contact the customer service department if you need a consignment note number to track your order.

TRANSPORT DAMAGE

In the event of transport damage or missing parcels, the following terms apply:

A.
Visible damage to products and/or packaging or missing parcels must be documented on receipt by means of a note on the consignment note, which must be signed by the driver. Thedesignconcept must immediately be informed in writing of any damaged products. Payment of compensation is conditional upon compliance with this procedure.

B.
Hidden damage, which cannot be assumed to have been visible on receipt must be reported in writing to thedesignconcept as soon as possible and within five calendar days at the latest. If the damage is reported after more than five days, the claim will not be accepted by the carrier, and you will have to cover the costs yourself.

All types of damage listed under items A and B should be documented by means of photos to expedite the processing of the compensation claim.

Products damaged during transport may not be returned to thedesignconcept without prior agreement with the customer service department. The products must instead be stored so as to allow inspection by the carrier.

COMPLAINTS

Complaints (not transport damage - see above) must be made to our customer service department no later than seven weekdays after you have received your order.

When you call our customer service department, it will also be decided whether or not the product should be exchanged or credited once it has been returned to us. Products damaged during return transport cannot be credited.

- Contact our customer service department
- Make sure that any returns are securely packaged to prevent transport damage.
- Write the sender's name and customer no./order no. clearly on the return package.

If you want a new product instead of the returned product, you must place a new order. Returns are credited once they have been received by us, unless otherwise agreed.

RETURNS

If thedesignconcept has delivered the wrong product or if you have accidentally ordered the wrong product, you must first contact our customer service department to let them know what you want to return. We will then decide whether we can exchange the product, or whether your account should be credited when the product has been returned to us.

As a general rule, we accept returns of products in stock. Products in stock are all products without a delivery symbol indicating a delivery time in weeks. In the webshop, these are all products listed as 'In stock for immediate delivery'

The following applies to returns:

- The product must be returned free from defects, in unused condition and in the original packaging.
- If you have ordered the wrong product and wish to return it, you must pay the delivery cost + a handling charge of 20% of the order amount.
- If thedesignconcept has delivered the wrong product, we will pay the cost of returning the product and credit the full amount to your account.
- Make sure that any returns are securely packaged to prevent transport damage.
- Write the sender's name and customer no./order no. clearly on the return package.

CANCELLING AN ORDER

Whether or not an order can be cancelled, depends on the product in question. Products in stock – the order can be cancelled by 12 noon on the same day it is placed. Products to order – the order can be cancelled before the products are dispatched by the supplier. Please contact our customer service department for further information. Custom orders – the order can be cancelled before production starts. Please contact our customer service department for further information.
